New SU Group Discusses Policy, Equipment, Staff

Management of the new Student Union and allocation of space and furnishings were discussed at the Tuesday meeting of the Student Union committee. No final decisions were made at several points were discussed and ideas aired. Final decisions will be made after members of the Student body have opportunity to express opinions.

The committee felt that since students apparently favor the appointment of a director of all student affairs, the administration of the Student Union should subordinate to the director. But since the director of student affairs would have campus wide functions a separate management of the Student Union would be necessary. After some discussion the committee decided that there might be a Student Union executive secretary combined with a student employment secretary. Matters of building maintenance and food service would be under the direction of Dr. Kotchevar, director of food services and residence halls.

AWS to Have Room
 The allocation of space for student organizations was discussed. The committee thought that one room would be set aside for the use of all women students under the direction of AWS. Student activity offices should be allocated, arranged, and furnished in January.

The committee said that at the start the new Student Union will be furnished with equipment from the old building. Some repairs, such as upholstery, might be necessary. They discussed decorations and decided that these could be considered after the opening of the building begins.

Aquamaids Elect Thomas, Choose Pageant Theme

A sea theme will be the central theme for the annual water pageant, which will be held the first week of spring quarter, the Aquamaids decided at a meeting Tuesday night.

Work has already been started on the 15 routines that make up the show, according to Judy Adams, president. Men will participate in the comedy and diving acts, and in one of the other routines, Miss Adams said.

Other business of the meeting included election of Shirley Thomas, Missoula, as secretary-treasurer.

B-F Endorses 15-Year Terms for $25,000 Ice Rink Loan

An ASMSU-University contract for a $25,000 loan to the University for construction of the ice skating rink was discussed yesterday by Budget and Finance committee and recommended for final approval in Central board. Last May Central board authorized President McFarland to use $10,000 from the student reserve fund for construction of three outdoor recreational facilities, a year-round ice skating rink, swimming pool, and nine-hole golf course.

To help finance the skating rink $5,000 of the student fund will be used. It was estimated at the central board meeting of Sept. that the rink would cost approximately $50,000. The remainder of the money will come from sources outside the University.

Interest on the loan will not be less than four per cent nor less than the interest on the other financial commitments.

Simple interest will be paid on the principle for the first five years. Payments of interest and principle will be made the last 10 years.

Joan Bachman, Missoula, ASMSU business manager, pointed out that ASMSU will gain about $2,000 under this arrangement which does not call for both interest and principle payments to begin immediately.

'Crime and Punishment' Final Tryouts Set Today

"Since concert piano players have been a little difficult to find, we'll settle for just a concertina virtuoso," said Abe Wollock, director of the forthcoming Masquers effort, "Crime and Punishment."

This is the last day of tryouts, and any potential actors or students interested in staging or costuming are asked to report at Simpkins Little Theater between 3 and 5:30 p.m.

So far, about 40 have read for the 35 speaking roles, said Wollock.

The final cast will be announced soon, and rehearsals begin Jan. 4. Production dates of the Dos-toievski-Ackland drama are Feb. 15 through 19.

SU DROPS CHRISTMAS PARTY, RETAINS MOVIE, FISH BOWL

The Student Union Christmas party, scheduled for Dec. 10, has been cancelled, according to Russ Pfohl, Deer Lodge.

A free movie, originally scheduled for the same night will still be shown. The Fish Bowl will also be open. Both the movie and the Fish Bowl have been scheduled so they will not interfere with the MSU-Gonzaga basketball game, on Dec. 10.

Convo Friday Will Feature Holiday Music

MSU's 80-voice A Cappella choir, directed by Lloyd Oakland, renders a program of Christmas music Friday in the annual Christmas convo. The choir will be joined by the Choral union singing group for two selections from George Frederick Handel's "Messiah."

Though the main portion of the program will be taken by the A Cappella with its program, students will be led in the traditional Christmas carols. The MSU choir music is part of the annual Christmas program which was presented last Sunday and includes what Director Oakland calls "Christmas music, not too frequently heard, which lies untouched in music libraries because people are used to hearing the usual selections."

The two selections from the "Messiah" will be only a taste of the program coming up this Sunday, Dec. 12 at 8:15 p.m. in the Student Union and will employ both the A Cappella choir and the Choral union. Luther A. Richman, director of the Choral union, has concentrated the group's efforts throughout the quarter on the lengthy "Messiah."

The A Cappella choir has been selected by the National Broadcasting Company for the third consecutive year as one of the outstanding choral groups in the nation, and music heard at the convo will be part of the program heard over the national network Christmas day, at 10:30 a.m., MST.

Hertler Announces PE Skating Classes

Two ice skating classes will be offered by the Physical Education department for beginning skaters next quarter, according to Charles Hertler, chairman of the Health and Physical Education department.

One class will be Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 2 p.m. and the other will be Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday at 3 p.m. Students are requested to bring their own skates.

Students are required to take six quarters of PE, Hertler said, and ice skating will be one of the classes offered to fulfill the requirement. Those who have already signed up for a PE class and want to take ice skating may change sections by filling out a drop-add card at the registrar's office. Sectionizing can be done in the PE office in the Men's gym the remainder of this quarter and the beginning of winter quarter. The enrollment in each class will be limited to 20 students.

Twelve Students Pledge Musicians' Honorary

Twelve MSU men took the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia oath last Sunday which pledged them to the honorary fraternity of musicians until next January when they will be initiated at province convention.

PHI ALPHA THETA PLANS FALL INITIATION, BANQUET

Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary, has announced plans for its annual fall quarter initiation and banquet to be held beginning at 6 p.m. today.

Joe Roemer, Missoula, president, and Frank Boedecker, Missoula, historian, are in charge of the event. According to Roemer, the initiation will be followed by dinner and dancing at the Chateau club.

Juanita Chapman, Ekalaka, and Prof. Catherine White will be initiated.

Rhodes Committee Chooses Eyer, Lamphere to Compete In Spokane Finals Saturday

Walter "Pat" Eyer, an MSU graduate assistant in history from Billings, and Marvin A. Lamphere, a senior in the Butte School of Mines, will step into the final rounds of district eight competition for the 1954 Rhodes scholarship Saturday in Spokane, Wash.

The two were selected for the honor yesterday after five hours of interviewing in the Student Union Eloise Knowles room. Over the broadcasting of recorded Christmas carols, six semi-finalists made their bids for the opportunity to compete in the district finals. The scholarships sponsor a year's study at Oxford University.

The committee for selecting Montana Rhodes scholars was headed by the Rev. R. V. Kavanaugh, Carroll college; with Prof. J. E. "Burly" Miller, MSU; H. G. Merriam, professor emeritus, MSU; Prof. Edward L. Hart, Brigham Young university, and Paul S. Gillespie, president of the Western Montana National Bank of Missoula, as committeemen.

Two students have been chosen from each state in district eight—Wyoming, North Dakota, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and Montana—to vie in the Spokane competition. From this group, four finalists will be named to leave for Oxford, Oct. 1, 1955.

In Spokane the judges will be Benjamin H. Kizer, Spokane, chairman; J. L. Gibson Jr., Idaho; Miller, MSU; Franklin D. Grey, North Dakota; Dean O. H. Rechard, Wyoming, and Prof. Carl B. Allendoerfer, Washington.

Candidate Eyer is an ex-Bear Paw, and a member of numerous

Biologist Arrives For Wildlife Work

Les Pengelly, big game biologist, recently appointed wildlife conservation extensionist at MSU, has arrived here and is ready to begin his duties.

Although Pengelly will be working in conjunction with Montana State University and Montana State College, his office will be at MSU.

Pengelly's work, which is primarily on the adult level education program, is being financed by the Montana Fish and Game department.

Pengelly resigned last month from the Idaho Fish and Game department, where he was the big game biologist for the northern area of the state, to work here.

Pengelly holds a master's degree in wildlife conservation from the University of Michigan and has taught wildlife management courses at the University of Idaho and at Utah State college.

Air Your Gripes . . .

John Fowler, Missoula, Bear Paw president, looks on as Don Dooley, San Francisco, puts the first note in the Bear Paw suggestion box. The box is located in the hallway between the Student Union cafeteria and book store. Fowler says it is available to all students with suggestions pertaining to the campus.

DUO PROTESTS PESSIMISM OVER '55 HOOP CAMPAIGN

Dear Editor:

After the very avid campaign just a few weeks past, it seems to us that the Kaimin has abandoned its drive for school and team spirit. Are you now advocating a get on the band-wagon but be content to lose attitude?

The type of pessimism reflected in your recent (Dec. 7) editorial is not conducive to good school or team spirit. Many coaches have been pessimistic about their teams prospects for a coming season, but few have said they would be satisfied with a .500 percentage. Accept defeat gracefully, to be sure, but, be satisfied with defeat before the season starts—Never!!!

Really, we don't expect miracles in the coming basketball season. However, granted that there are differences in the quality of basketball players, it doesn't seem overly optimistic or unreasonable to expect a good season if good McFarland, Missoula, were house guests over the week end.

Lynn Jelinek, Miles City, ex '55, is engaged to Jim Reid, Billings.

material is on hand, because one of the most common excuses for a poor season is inadequate material.

We would like to point out, in closing, that in recent years LaSalle, Duquesne, and Kansas State had fairly successful seasons with predominately sophomore teams.

Helena Bengals Send Top Centers To Boost Grizzly Hoop Fortunes

By GENELL JACKSON

Coach Lloyd Skor of the Helena Bengals has sent MSU two of its most promising hoop centers during recent years—Ray Howard and Russ Sheriff.

The Capital City mentor, while producing top MSU prospects, has won the state basketball title for the past two years and has placed a good many cagers on the various Montana all-star teams. He earned his Masters degree here several years ago.

The latest to come to MSU, Russ Sheriff, was one of the state's leading high school scorers last year, despite the fact that he missed a game because of his father's death. The towering center spearheaded the Bengals to another state title and was listed on every all-star squad chosen in Montana last season.

Ray Howard, the starting center for the Grizzlies, helped the Cubs earn their "Fabulous Frosh" nickname last year. While playing for Helena, he broke all existing records and his 647 points in one season is still tops.

There was one Bengal that Montana missed, however. He was Chuck Darling, who chose Iowa and became an All-American cager there.

Records show that Helena has sent other top athletes this way. Dick Carstensen and Sam Kain are both listed on the Montana University Hall of Fame in basketball.

Kain played from 1926 through 1928 and, in addition to playing outstanding basketball, he also earned three letters as a half-back in football. Carstensen played both guard and center and still appears on Montana all-star teams. He was cited by tournament officials as being one of the outstanding cagers in the Northwest JayCee Invitational played in Lewistown last spring.

Rich Johnson was another top-notch Helena guard, playing his last MSU basketball game last spring. Joe Brennan was also a good MSU hoopster and was elected to captain the Grizzlies in 1950.

Kaimin Presents All All-Americans

Now that most of the All-American football selections have been announced, the Kaimin can safely present its All-American—a composite of the mythical teams chosen by United Press, Associated Press, Sporting News, Look, Collier's, Newspaper Enterprise association, Weekly Gridiron Record and the Chicago Tribune.

Coaches, players, sportswriters and sportscasters—all had a hand in picking the Kaimin's Composite All-America. Players appearing on the first teams of any of the publications received five points on the Kaimin Composite. Gridgers named to second teams received three and third team All-Americans were given one point.

Imer, DeLuca Rate Honorable Mention

Montana's Dick Imer and Joe DeLuca were given honorable mention yesterday on the Associated Press' 1954 All-American football team. Six other Skyline gridgers were accorded a similar distinction.

Imer ranked sixth in the nation in yards rushing, according to final statistics released yesterday by the NCAA Service bureau. He totaled 889 yards on 111 tries for an 8.01 average, the best in the nation among players carrying the ball 100 or more times.

What changed this picture?

If you ever drove up to that old-fashioned pump and said "Fill her up!" you'll remember that you got the gasoline. But that's all you got!

Because the primitive fuel pump was a long way down the road from the service station of modern times. We know, because we pioneered a surprising number of the customer services the petroleum industry has since adopted.

Like water and air wells. We first sank them on the pump island so you could get gasoline, water and air in one place.

Like windshield washing service. We introduced the individual clean towel and special fluid—and first washed your car's windows all the way around.

Like the cash box on the pump island—the quicker to make change and save you time.

Like famous Union "Minute Man Service" that, at its best, even empties the ash trays, brushes out and dusts off your car.

Like the full-time cleaning and painting crews that keep Union's 4500 stations in the West the glistening white that invites you in.

When we introduced them these were "bonus services." Today you take them for granted when you buy gasoline. You do because the oil companies—in constant competition for your business—are continually improving their products and expanding their services.

For in America's free competitive economy, making things increasingly better for the customer is the only way to make any progress for yourself.
